Overview

Stephanie Esterhuyse is an Of Counsel lawyer in our Cape Town office Litigation Practice.

She specialises in medico-legal litigation. Her major clients include an international professional indemnity organization and the Medical Protection Society, which includes Dental Protection Ltd. As a result, she advises and represents doctors, dentists, psychologists and related medical professionals faced with professional conduct inquiries, subpoenas to testify at judicial inquests, criminal prosecutions and civil claims for damages.

She has BA and LLB degrees from Stellenbosch University and Certificates in Medicine and Law from the University of Pretoria and University of South Africa respectively.
